In the beginning...

In the heart of mystical India...

...a charming creature
named Booghe was born.

Booghe, unique
in his ways...

...found joy
in giving.

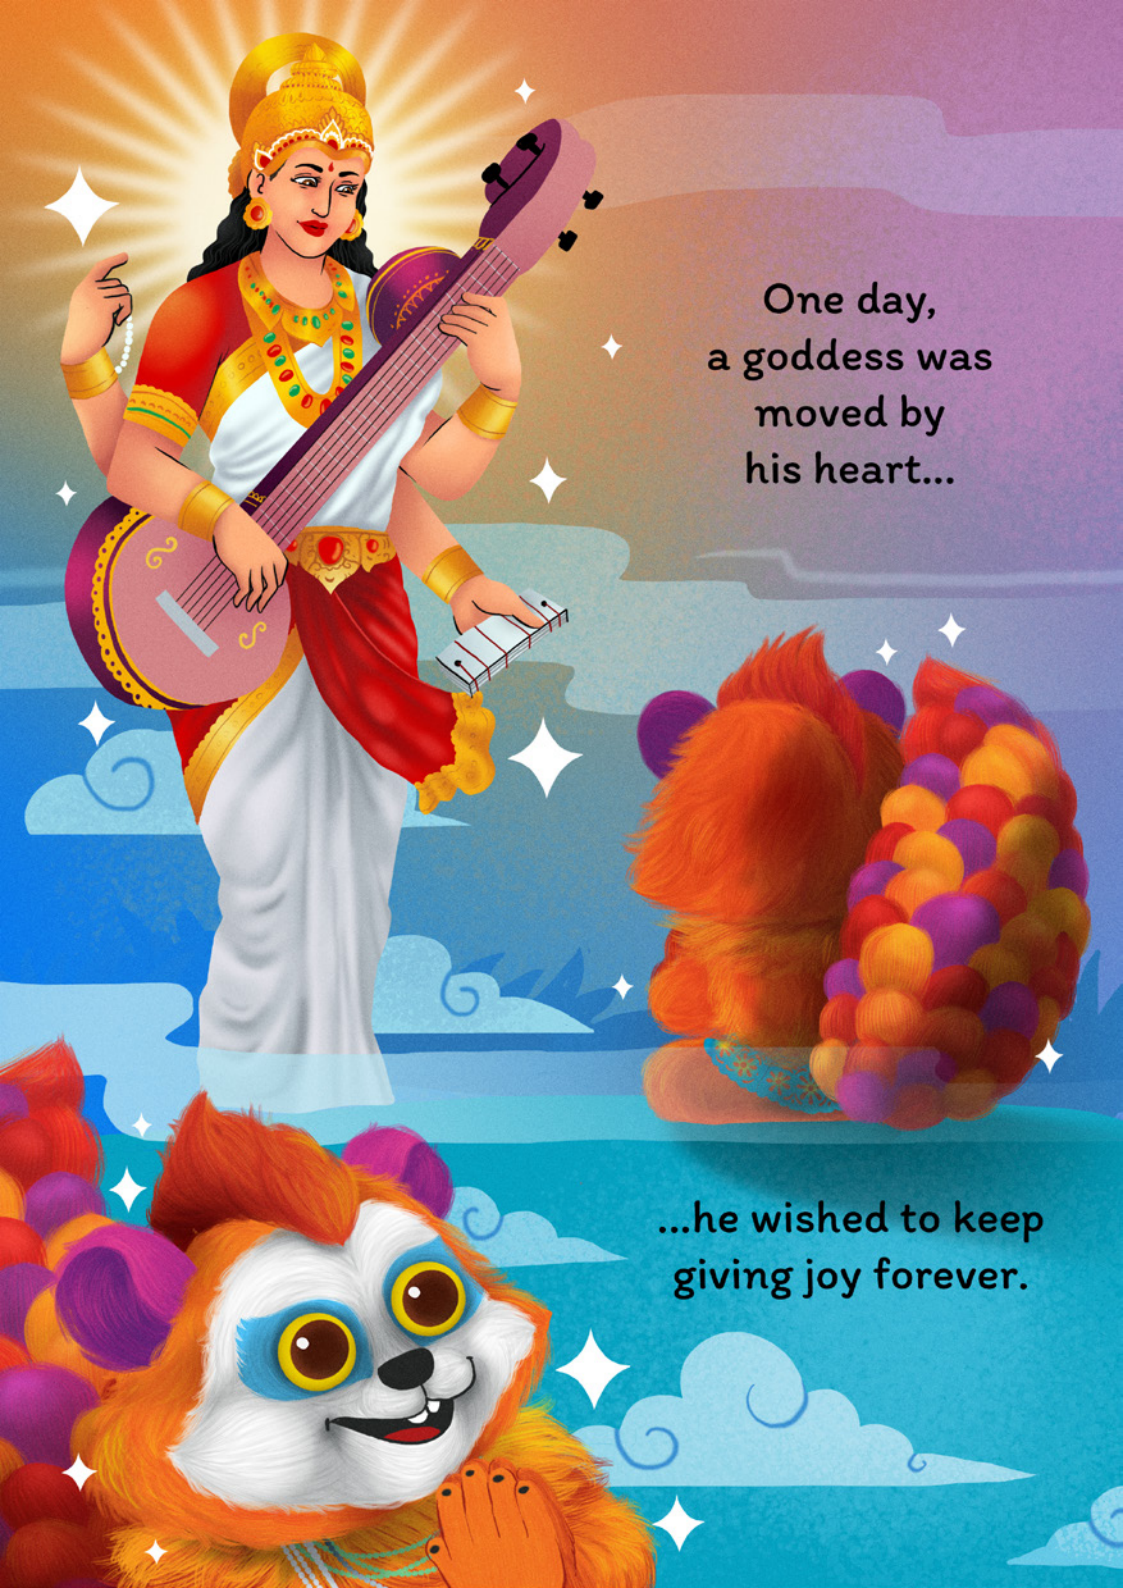

With hands kissed
by magic...

...he brought
dreams to life.

Word of Booghe's magic spread far and wide.

Their joy became his true happiness.

One day,
a goddess was moved by his heart...

...he wished to keep
giving joy forever.

So Booghe
continued his labor of love...

...bringing endless
joy to children.

Every Booghe toy carried his magic...

...and the wisdom of finding happiness in giving.

This is the legend of Booghe...

...an everlasting
symbol of joy

In the mystical heart of India, Booghe, a magical creature, emerges from an ancient Banyan tree to spread joy through his unique gift of transforming ordinary objects into enchanting toys. Blessed by the Goddess Saraswasti to forever craft happiness, Booghe's creations teach the joy of giving, leaving an everlasting legacy of delight.
